

YALE IN BAD FORM, BUT ODDS ON BLUE

Advance Guard of Mighty Crowd Throngs Streets of New Haven.

LINE-UP FOR THE FIRST HALF

Trainer Murphy Says Several of His Men Are Bruised.
Crimson Confident.

(By Associated Press.)
NEW HAVEN, CONN., November 18.—The city in and about Yale University is completely in the hands of the advance guard of the mighty throng, which tomorrow will stream out to Yale Field to see the annual gridiron battle.

The city's streets adjacent to the campus all the evening were in a whirl of both Yale and Harvard men, the latter being noticeable because of their manner of wearing a broad band of crimson on their arms. The vortex was in the New Haven House, the corridors of which for hours were jammed with undergraduates and football heroes of other years.

Yale in Bad Trim.
It having been noted about late in the day that the Yale team was not in any too good a condition, Trainer Murphy said in reply to questions:

"Several men are bruised and they will enter the game not in the best of condition."

The team was given some hard signal practice in the afternoon behind closed gates, when the new formations were tried, and they seemed well fagged at the end. Then came the usual dance around the bonfire, which was fed with discarded football clothes. The players were sent to their rooms for the night, several of them, however, later going to the infirmary on Prospect Hill to make certain of a good night's sleep.

At the Pequot House, at Morris Cove, Coach Wrightington, in answer to questions, said that the Harvard team will put up a good fight, and that excepting Miller, the men were in excellent condition. He declined to make any predictions as to the outcome of the game.

The Line-Up.

The line-up of the teams as announced to-night, and which is the final selection for the first half of the game is as follows:

Yale.....	Position.....	Harvard.....
Kinney.....	Left guard.....	White.....
Roraback.....	Center.....	Parker.....
Tripp.....	Right guard.....	Sperry.....
Togan (captain).....	Right tackle.....	Derby.....
Neal.....	Right end.....	Montgomery.....
Quackenbush.....	Quarter back.....	Starr.....
Moore.....	Left half back.....	Sperry.....
Morse.....	Right half back.....	Burley (captain).....
Owley (Flynn).....	Full back.....	Mills.....

The news that the Yale team was not as fit for the contest as had been expected spread everywhere, and soon after 8 o'clock a special trolley car laden to its capacity with Harvard men came down from Morris Cove and stopped at the New Haven House. There was a great demand for quotations on the game and figures were reluctantly named by Yale men, the prevailing odds in the few small transactions being five to three that the blue would win.

SHOT AND KILLED HIS FATHER-IN-LAW

Fires on Him From Behind and Makes Good His Escape.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

FLOYD, VA., November 18.—David Sowers was shot and instantly killed late Wednesday evening by his son-in-law, Emmett Howerly, at the residence of A. A. Boothe, some four or five miles from this place.

The men had been hunting, and when seen both were under the influence of whiskey. They stopped in front of Boothe's house and commenced quarreling. Howerly was seen to draw a pistol, and when Sowers was not watching him, placed the same close to the back of his head, and fired. The ball entered behind the left ear and death was instantaneous. Howerly claims he did it in self-defense, and when Sowers's body was examined, his double-barrel shotgun was under him; both barrels were cocked and loaded shells in the same. Howerly, after helping to move the body to Boothe's Mill made his escape, and has not yet been arrested.

No one knows the cause of the shooting. The parties were on the best of terms up to that time. Both men have families, and the affair is to be much regretted.

Daniels, and champion trap-shooter of the State of Virginia, an honor he has twice won, has declined a flattering offer to travel and shoot at tournaments, and has decided instead to follow his father's illustrious example and adopt the law as his chosen profession.

He is now only about twenty years of age and has made a remarkable record at the traps. It is understood Mr. Daniels contemplates taking the law course at Harvard University. He will have an excellent opportunity to fully equip himself for the profession under his distinguished father's guidance. Senator Daniels being a widely known law writer and practitioner.

The younger Daniels is well known to the trap-shooting fraternity of Richmond and the entire State.

Daniels, who was convicted last week of the murder of another white man in Duplin county. This is the second time Daniels and Rivenbark have been found guilty of murder in the first degree and a day fixed for the hanging.

MAN SAW YOUNG SHOOT HIMSELF

New Witness in Case of Nan
Patterson Turns Up
Unexpectedly.

SENT LETTER TO COUNSEL

Five Jurors Required to Complete Panel Were Secured
Yesterday.

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Although two full court days had been taken up in securing seven of the twelve jurors who will decide the fate of Nan Patterson, the former show girl, who is charged with the murder of Caesar Young, the incidents in the court-room have tended to keep up interest in the case. The receipt of a letter telling of an important new witness, and the finding, during the examination of telegrams, of another person, believed to be an eye witness, were the principal of those incidents. The text of the letter which Mr. Levy received was given out today. It was written in German and signed by "L. Black."

The writer claims to have witnessed the struggle in the cab, and says that he saw Young turn the revolver against his own breast and fire.

Willing to Testify.

"I saw with my own eyes, on the morning of June 14, a man in the cab with a pistol in his hand, and a woman was seated alongside of him," says the writer. "I saw the man raise the pistol, which was in his hand; I heard the shot, and I ran as fast as I could. I kept quiet until now because I thought you had other witnesses, but for the sake of the truth I must write you this. I am willing, should occasion demand it, and if you think it worth while, to appear before Mr. Jerome and yourself and say that I saw the man hold the pistol in his hand. I am ready to take an oath on this for the sake of justice."

The five jurors required to complete the panel were secured to-day, after cautioning the jurors not to discuss the case among themselves, and directing them not to read newspaper accounts of the trial. Justice Davis adjourned court until Monday.

During the search for the twelve jurors, thirty-nine men were examined, and the defense used up twenty-eight of the thirty challenges which it is allowed by law. The prosecution had sixteen of its thirty challenges left when the last juror was chosen. Foreman Hendricks, of the jury, learned that a member of his family was critically ill, and he asked to be excused from jury duty. No action was taken on his request, but the remaining members of the special panel of takersmen were instructed to be present when the case is resumed next week.
